1997 Convention Buffalo, NY (April 23rd to 27th 1997)

The 19th annual JFO convention was another very successful convention. Host Mark Barren did a lot of worrying but everything went well and all attendees had a great time. Officially 39 JFO members registered and 5 more attended the Saturday show. The weather was perfect, cool but not cold. I want to extend a big thank you to Mark Barren for his outstanding job, to Bob McNary for his many contributions including the goodie bag and convention t-shirt, to Mead Bates for providing not one but two convention openers and to Don Bull for donating a C-22 Ruppert opener for each attendee. Before I forget, a big thank you to Verne and LaVerne Vollrath for another super job on the convention auction. Also if I missed anyone's contribution please forgive me. Several members donated pictures including Dick Britton, Bob Stahly, Harold Queen, Don Whelan and Larry Biehl.

1998 Convention San Francisco (20th JFO Convention), CA (April 22nd to 26th 1998)

The 1998 Convention is set for April 22-26 at the Hotel Californian in San Francisco. The contract has been signed. The room rate for the Hotel Californian is $80 (a 14% tax will be added to that). Convention registration form will be in the October issue.

Member's Update

Ollie Hibbeler is fully recovered from his operation. He is back on the trail hunting for openers.

Jack Love had to miss the convention due to a heart operation. He is recovering well.

On May 10th Mike Schwimmer's wife, Annie, passed away after a fight with cancer. Mike missed the convention to be with his wife. Our prayers go out to him.

The week after the convention Art and Eileen Johnson lost their oldest son, Art Jr. They also missed the convention to be with their son. Our thoughts and prayers are with Art and Eileen.

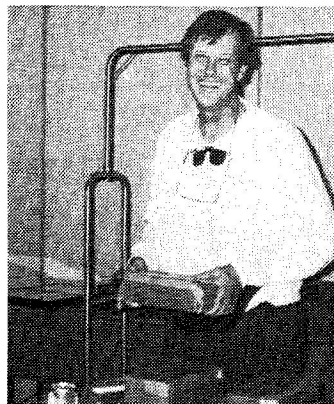

Jim and Marguerite Chalk missed the convention due to a minor operation on Jim. Jim is reportedly doing fine.

Bill McKenzie (Letter by a Close Friend-Nick Clous)

William Lee McKenzie

Born: August 13, 1941, in Milwaukee, Wisconsin

Died: March 10, 1997, in Littleton Colorado

With Deepest Sympathy,

It is with deep sadness that we must report the passing of Bill McKenzie, of Littleton, CO. After a 5 year battle with Leukemia, Bill lost the good fight from his disease from Hell on March 10, 1997. Bill's death is a tragic and profound loss to his family, countless friends, and members of the collecting community. Both, on a local level and across the nation.

Bill had three loves, his family (being number one); Volleyball, at which he was a very good as player and coach; Antiquing, you could find Bill at any given moment at a garage sale, flea market, or the antique shops on South Broadway. Bill collected everything from A to Z. His greatest passion was for breweriana, especially openers. He had probably amassed one of the finest opener collections in the country. Bill was one of the founders of Just For Openers (J.F.O.). A very active member of the organization, being a co-chairman of two very successful J.F.O. Conventions held in Denver in the mid-1980's. Bill was in the Columbine Chapter from its beginning. I can tell you, he was very proud of our chapter, it's objectives, and what it has accomplished in short six years. Bill was also an active member of the Antique Bottle Collectors of Colorado and the Mile-Hi Chapter of the B.C.C.A.

Along with my fond memories of Bill, I would like to imagine that if there is a flea market in heaven, Bill is up there picking up all the B-type and figural openers he can find. Rest in peace dear friend.

(This tribute appeared in the Columbine Chapter newsletter, a job well done).

Price Guide Update From the Last Issue for "K" Types

The response I had about prices in the last issue mostly regarded "K" types. Several members felt I had undervalued a few key bar mounts. Here is the revised table.

ECBA Spring Meet Allentown, PA (April 5th)

I left Durham at 6:50 Friday morning and by 11:20 I was in Frederick, MD. From there on I hit several antique malls but turned up nothing. The day before I had been to Charlotte, NC for the big Antique Extravaganza and found 3 miscellaneous openers and 3 corkscrews (nothing to get excited about). Apparently the local collectors keep the antique malls picked clean in Maryland and Pennsylvania. I arrived at Ben and Cornelia Hoffman's at 5:00. After a fine supper of boiled shrimp, Ben and I got down to some trading. Ben wanted a N-8-1 Schuster, a N-20-2 Grossvater and 4 C-13s I had. Ben had a B-27-6 Furniture City, a B-21-UL Rosenegk and several soda openers including a Pepsi wall mount. We completed the trade pretty quickly and then it was time to see Ben's collection. I spent a couple of hours going over his collection. We turned in about 10:00.

We arrived the next morning at the show in Allentown just after 8:00. With over 100 tables being set up a lot of action was going on. Harold Queen was running the show for ECBA and was very busy handing out information and verifying show attendees. Ben got his table set up and was quickly surrounded by several potential buyers. I was checking tables out and right off the bat bought an A-35-UL Fink and a B-21-406 Robinson which I passed along to Ben. As the show progressed very few good openers surfaced. I ended up with an O-4-UL Falls City and several "E"s but not much else. JFO member Tony Zanghi got the best opener when he turned up a B-7-14 Windber. JFO members in attendance (besides the ones already mentioned) were Herb and Helen Haydock (autographing their new book on breweriana), Ken Ostrow (as always with a great selection of breweriana for sale), Paul Wagner, Tom Gormally, Chuck King and Larry Moter.

At 11:15 Ben and I left the show for a short time to meet Don Bull. Don had driven down to drop off the rest of his opener type collection for me to take to the JFO Buffalo convention (there are quiet a few of the types in this auction). We were gone about an hour and a half and besides the openers, Don brought beer crates, old bottle cappers and a lot of neat beer advertising items. The Ford F-150 extended cab truck I was driving was packed full. The show was over by 1:30 and afterwards I attended the ECBA officers meeting. Cornelia ended up catching a ride home with Paul Wagner because the truck was so full. Ben and I left everything at his house and then proceeded over to nearby Pottstown to pickup Cornelia and visit with Paul and his wife Stella.

Paul has spent a great deal of time displaying his collection. He bought over 20 of the latch-and-lock frames and then had them converted into small type display cases. He then carefully organized his collection by brand, town and types. Each opener is held in the display by 2 to 4 straight pins. Very impressive and someday he will pass his collection along to his children. After seeing his collection we all went out for supper. Once supper was finished Ben, Cornelia and I returned home and of course Ben and I started checking out all of the types that Don had sent. Fortunately for me Ben wanted the beer crates and the bottle cappers which freed up a lot of room in the truck. I still had about 20 small frames full of good openers. I must add that Cornelia was also nice enough to allow the crates and cappers to stay. About 10:00 I was ready to pass out and went to bed.

Even with daylight savings time, I was up early and ready to go home the next morning. Cornelia fixed a nice breakfast and I was on the road by 7:30. The only place I stopped at was the Black Angus antique mall about 8:30 and I came up empty handed again. It was hard for me to be unhappy with 300 of Don's good openers in the truck. I was back in Durham by 5:00. It was time to start getting ready for Buffalo.

M-3 & M-73 Non-Beer Slide-Out Listings

The following list contains all known non-United States Beer advertising slide-outs. The last 2 to 3 years have seen all slide-outs gain in popularity with most collectors picking up the common beer slide-outs pretty fast and to keep their interests up they start collecting the non-beer slide-outs. Prices for non-beer M-3s in excellent condition run $10-$30 for most with the soda ones running $40-$50. The M-73s in excellent condition can go for $40-$60 but can bring much more if being sold by corkscrew dealers. The long case M would bring $150-$200 since only 2 to 3 are known. One thing we know for sure is that the Electro-Chemical Engraving Co. salesman sure made his living selling M-73s in the great northwest, mainly in Montana. Finally if you have a non-beer slide-out not listed, a color not listed or a correction, please let me know so I can keep this list updated.

"Opener Trivia"

I did not receive a response about Larry Sherk's B-14 "White Horse Beer Ale & Stout" being American. John Cartwright did say that the owner of the antique shop with the pile of great openers for sale, had bought a collection from the family of an antique dealer. The owner pulled out what he thought were the good openers and priced them individually. He told John that the remaining 10,000 (!!!) he sold for 15 cents each or $1500. He just estimated the number and did not want to bother counting them. The 10,000 included "E"s and "I"s and probably a lot of "B"s and "C"s. The man who bought the openers came back and told the owner there were actually over 14,000 openers in the lot. I would venture to say the man got one hell of a deal for $1500. Folks that is where a lot of the good openers to be found are now laying. In collections that someone accumulated over many years and those years being back when you could find openers cheap including good openers.

Now for trivia questions for this issue:

Last year in Chicago Harriet Waldo, Norm Jay and I made a 3-way trade. Harriet received a P-10-69 Springfield in excellent condition. Norm Jay ended up a tough beer mug that needed a lot of love and attention from New Athens (IL) Brewing Co (Norm had to throw in a couple of openers to complete his end of the deal). Norm had wanted a $100 for the P-10 but settled on $75 in trade. So Harriet gave me an E-8 Chero-Cola and the following B-19:

B-19 MY-COCA COMPANY, BIRMINGHAM, ALA. / MADE FROM THE ORIGINAL COCA-COLA FORMULA

Harriet must have felt guilty because she kept asking if I was happy with the deal. I kept telling her that I was. After the convention Jack Ford sent in a B-22 as an addition to the soda handbook with the exact wording as the B-19. I asked Jack if he knew anything about the My-Coca Company. He sent me the following response that Allen Petretti (author of the best Coca-Cola book on the market) had sent him.

The "My-Coca" opener is very interesting. Many Coke rip-off companies tried and failed. Coca-Cola bought out or put out of business most of them. One of the most interesting is "My-Coca". A woman named Diva Brown, who earlier was an associate of John Pemberton (the inventor of Coca-Cola), said he sold her the formula for Coca-Cola. Court cases proved she didn't own the formula, but she never gave up. She manufactured many rip-off brands, Lime-Cola, Celery-Cola, Better-Cola, Vera-Cola, My-Cola and My-Coca. The latter two she claimed were "made from the original Coca-Cola formula". There also exists an embossed amber bottle with "My-Coca". Your opener is a pretty good piece worth $75-$100. The opener can also be found without the Coca-Cola claim on the reverse for much less money.

Hope This Helps Allen Petretti

In May I visited with Thom Thompson to photograph his fabulous Coca-Cola opener collection. Thom said just recently a crate of 24 My-Coca bottles were found with bottle caps intact. Most of the caps were rusted away but a few could be read. Pictured below is one of the caps.

My-Coca Co.

1424-1426 THIRD AVENUE
PHONE 5412 MAIN

Birmingham, Ala.,

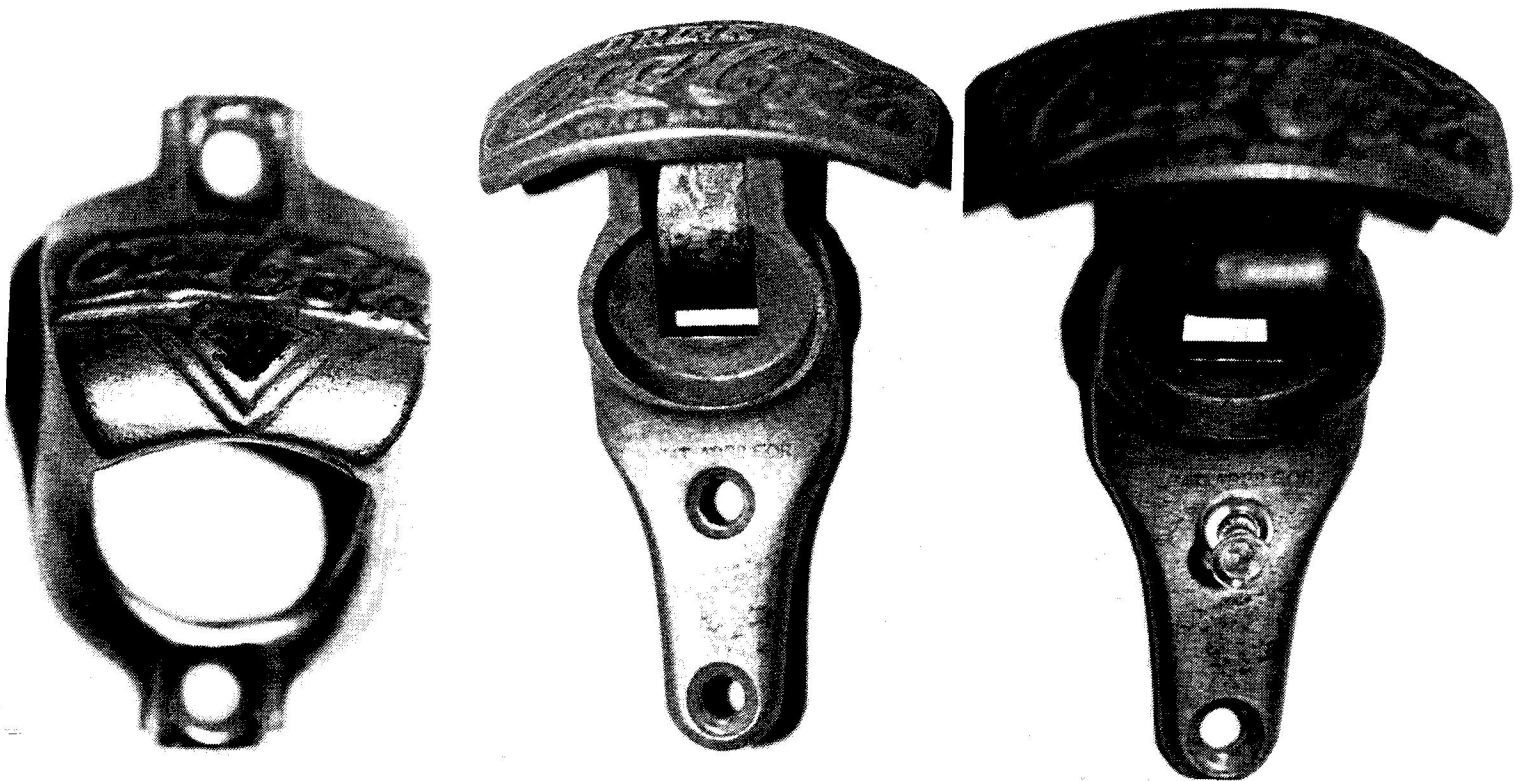

To the right is a letterhead from the "My Coca" company. The cap shows a picture of Mrs. Diva Brown and calls her the "Original Coca-Cola Woman". Thanks Jack Ford and Thom Thompson for your nice input.

On the way to see Thom Thompson I stopped at an antique show in Columbus, Ohio. Beer openers were pretty scarce but I did find the C-12 Coca-Cola opener. It is only the second opener I have ever seen with a ball bat and baseball stamped on it, the other being a "Fan Taz" soda B-18. Like the B-18 the slogan on this opener is the same "Drink of the Fans" and the baseball has the word "League" on it. It is also the first C-12 Coca-Cola opener that I have heard about.

To the right of the C-12 Coca-Cola is an A-UL-UL Donkey advertising Jax Beer from Jackson, Fla. I got this opener out a small collection just before the convention. At the convention I asked for input as to the opener being authentic. One member was pretty vocal that they thought the opener had been made up by someone. Donkeys do turn up from time to time without any advertising. I cannot remember if I have seen a donkey before with advertising on it. If someone did have this opener engraved I don't understand why they picked Jax Beer, Budweiser is always the obvious choice. To put letters on this opener you would need a diamond bit which would probably require the help of a jeweler. This process is not cheap. I certainly cannot prove this was put out by the brewery but since it is mine I am leaning toward making it a new discovery for 1998. Other member's opinion on this matter would be appreciated.

Pictured above are two very unusual Coca-Cola wall mounts from the Thom Thompson collection. The one on the left just has a number and like the one on the right I have never seen or heard of another example. I have shown 2 views of the "spinning hook" Coca-Cola wall mount. The picture on the right shows the opener with the hook in place as it would be if mounted on the wall. It is marked "Pat. Appld For" and must be a cousin to the Starr Manufacturing Company type "O-5". These are also the only examples of these that Thom has seen and he believes they may have been test pieces sent to a distributor. Of course if others exist that means they have been more widely produced. If anyone has either of these pieces please let me know.

Shown on the next page is another unusual wall mount. Hale Milano found it a local flea market. Besides being a very early wall mount, marked "Pat. 1917", it comes in 2 parts. I do not know of another 2-part wall mount. Hale graciously traded the opener to me on an "I-7" deal. Beside the "1917" wall mount a L-2-10 and a L-2-UL bottle corkscrews. Norm Jay is the proud owner of both and as far as anyone knows each is one of a kind. The one on the left from the Home Brewing Company of St. Louis has been owned by Norm for a number of years. He just picked up the Cape Girardeau Brewing and Ice Co. corkscrew this past winter. A lot of Missouri collectors would kill for these two pieces. Norm now has 15 of the 21 known L-2s (and I believe that Don Bull has the 5 of the 6 that Norm needs: L-2-16 Budweiser, L-2-4 Buffalo, L-2-17 Indiana, L-2-14 Kolb, L-2-19 Terre Haute and L-2-20 Texas). Gary Deachman has 13 different beer L-2s in his collection and Don has 14 different beer L-2s in his.

The following "U-Neek" box for "Cork, Crown and Milk Bottle Cap Removal" was discovered by Hale Milano. He gave it to me to use in this newsletter. Unfortunately for Hale the box was empty. The "U-Neek" is a key 20th century corkscrew sought by many corkscrew collectors. One in excellent condition can go for $500.

WINE MERCHANT'S CORNER:

New Twists In Corkscrews

by Richard Scheer, Owner of the Village Corner, Ann Arbor

For as long as winemakers have put corks in bottles, inventors have tried to fashion ways to get them out. Cork-finished bottles date back more than 300 years, corkscrew patents over 200. Between 1795 and 1908, over 350 corkscrew patents were issued in England alone. By the end of the 19th century, American inventors had been awarded 250 patents of their own. French, German, Iberian and Italian creators produced a plethora of models.

The level of 'twisted' genius reached its maximum in the second half of the 19th century, when mass production of molded glass containers and speedier transportation and distributor systems brought about widespread marketing of wine (also beer and cider) in cork-finished bottles. During this period, many of the new model corkscrews were unique in both functional and artistic design. At the same time corkscrews became sought-after objects not only by wine lovers, but by collectors as well.

During the last 25 years, winemakers have enjoyed a surge in interest in fine wine worldwide, stimulating corkscrew inventors to come up with an astonishing number of new twists that take advantage of space-age materials. Corkscrew collecting has reached an all-time high too, with the formation of the International Correspondence of Corkscrew Addicts and widespread publicity accorded Brother Timothy's Christian Brothers collection of over 600 pieces.

Faced with such a daunting range of choices, the casual wine drinker must wonder how he'll ever come upon the corkscrew most suitable for his personal needs and tastes. Actually, though, this myriad of corkscrews consists of many variations on but a handful of themes, or types. The first type is the simplest in concept and operation but has more design variations than any other. This SIMPLE CORKSCREW has a handle with a shank attached. At the end of the shank is a either helix (worm, spiral) or an auger. This working end is turned into the cork until it penetrates its entire length, whereupon it forms (hopefully) a tight union, and its handler extracts the cork by brute force.

Corkscrews of this type are widely available in many models. Tiny ones fold out of a Swiss-army knife; big models may feature a gnarled, lacquered grapevine handle. Ingenious little pocket-size models come with the shank sheathed, the sheath is removed and inserted in the hollow head of the shank to form a handle. Another is no larger than a peanut. Unscrew the halves to reveal the helix, which swings out to a perpendicular position and is held firmly in place when the half-sections are screwed together again to form a handle. Another looks like a jew's harp, the auger swung into the center for storage, swung out for use.

Regardless of model, at the working end I favor a helix over an auger. It displaces less cork so is easier to insert, forms a better union with the cork, and extracts it with less effort. If a bottle has been poorly stored, its cork dried out, an auger is more apt to pull out just the center of the cork than is a helix. Superior helix screws have more turns for full penetration of long corks, thin, well-tempered wires and widely-spaced coils for easier penetration and a more thorough grip. These are less likely to be found on simple, 'picnic wine' corkscrews than on the more complex models.

Very popular today is the relatively sophisticated WING-TYPE CORKSCREW. Its shank sits within a bell-shaped frame the base of which is placed on the top of a wine bottle to begin the opening operation. As the handle is turned and the helix or auger worked down into the cork, 'wings' swing out from the frame via a gear mechanism, reaching their apogees once the working end is entirely engaged with the cork. As the handler swings these wings back down to the frame, the gearing reverses itself, drawing up the shank and removing the cork from the bottle...almost. Because most wing-type corkscrews never fully extract the cork, because they are rather bulky, because they often have auger mechanisms, and because cheap models are prone to failure due to poorly attached shanks or poorly tempered wires, I do not favor this type of corkscrew.

My favorite all-around wine-bottle opener is the WAITER-TYPE CORKSCREW. All sections fold together to form a compact, pocket-size unit. Most models are straight and flat. However, new developments include a bowed model and a round model, each more comfortable to hold and to use than the conventional styles. Essential to the waiter-type corkscrew is a capsule-cutting device. Traditionally, this has come in the form of a straight or curved-blade fold-out knife. The latest models have serrated blades to better cut through today's hard, lead-free capsules, including the all-aluminum capsule with its razor-sharp edges (be careful!). Another comes with a pair of sharp cutting wheels set in a recessed section of the handle. Still another boasts a contoured, serrated cutting edge in its swing-out lever.

To use the waiter-type corkscrew, swing out its helixed shank perpendicular to its handle, insert the tip of the helix into the cork slightly off-center (the center of the spiral, not the tip, should enter the center of the cork), and twist the entire helix down into the cork. Rock the handle back and swing out from its top the corkscrew's notched lever. Set the notch on the bottle's lip, grip the bottle's neck and hold the lever in place with one hand while drawing up the handle of the corkscrew with the other to extract the cork.

The major drawback to the waiter-type corkscrew is that an awkward angle forms when a long cork is extracted, encouraging part of the cork to break off. Corkscrew inventors have come up with two solutions to this problem. The first incorporates two fold-up levers, the shorter one engaged with the neck of the bottle during the first stage of cork extraction, the longer one brought to work during the second, and final, stage. The second solution uses a floating rather than stationary pivot point where lever meets handle.

BARREL-TYPE CORKSCREWS are bulkier but offer the casual wine drinker relatively fool-proof operation. Their cylindrical housings rest on the top of a wine bottle, accurately centering shank and helix over the cork. The old, wooden French models involve twisting the spiral in with one handle and extracting the cork with another. New plastic models in wide use today allow the handler to insert the spiral and extract the cork in one continuous motion. Their super-thin, super-wide, Teflon-coated spirals penetrate the entire cork with ease and allow it to be removed gently.

Familiarize yourself with these four most popular types of corkscrews. See which make and model fits your needs the best. Perhaps you'll favor one type for travel, another for home. Or perhaps, like me, you'll become a corkscrew addict, join the ICCA, and begin to collect the fantastic range of cork extractors, new and old, that present themselves to today's wine lover.

Openers 101

While eating lunch at John's favorite restaurant today, I thought it would be appropriate to discuss his favorite subject, you guessed it, openers. The newsletter goes to press this week, and I had not had my first lesson in openers, so I could do as promised and include Openers 101 in my column. He told me that he had written up something for my column!! What??? Did he think I'd be late?

I asked if he had included the types of openers...no, that's in the handbook. Well, isn't that where I need to start?? Seems logical, so I'd know what you are talking about when you rattle off As and Es and whatever. Lunch arrives, end of discussion.

Now as he sleeps, I read "my" column. Some good points, but not exactly what I had in mind. Maybe he doesn't know...I need BASICS. So, I better venture into his office and try not to cling together too much metal in search of his handbook. Perhaps I'll just check it out on the computer I am pounding away on. Good Idea...I found it, it's the big file on the hard drive!

Goodness, it looks like the A's are Nude and Clothed Women. So, that's why he started collecting!!! Oh, as you continue down the list, A's are lots of things. Oh my, I thought this would be simple. A's would be this, B's would be that.

Learning Openers from John is going to be like asking sports questions in overtime. How will I ever, ever learn???

E-8s are two frets. I better not fret about types until my next lunch with John. In the meantime, for this issue, I will summarize some of the good pointers he included in his write-up and add my own. Some topics will be expanded on in future issues, but let's get the big picture.

⇒ Why Do You Want to Collect Openers? (See Herb White's Story at the End of Lesson)

Seems a little premature, but if you can start with some focus, even if it changes as time goes on, you may save yourself a lot of time and money.

Will it be a hobby, an investment, a historical adventure, or something your spouse forced you to do, so you'd be absorbed in it every evening and week-end? (Then she may go shopping un-noticed!)

⇒ Common Openers

Once you realize, you don't want too many of these, the trick is to learn to act very excited when relatives and co-workers bring a "real unusual" one back from wherever for you.

⇒ Specialization

You may specialize in specific types, breweries, periods of time, areas of the country, etc. You will go crazy if you just look aimlessly for openers. Place a value on the ones you want and don't just buy any opener, just so you come home with some opener. Don't waste money on common ones, when you really, really want one from your hometown.

On the other hand, have more than one good goal, so you won't be too limited in what you can find. For instance, hometown and a certain brewery that was in another area.

⇒ The Hunt

Are yard sales really worth it? Does the flea market have too many craft stands and not enough real antiques? You will learn to dig through kitchen stuff, for that old opener.

Don't forget to take a hat, sunscreen and an umbrella, because once the hunt starts, you will not be able to stop, no matter what the elements bring you.

⇒ Risk Taking

Everyone, but John Stanley, listen to your gut feelings. If you really want an opener and it's a fair price, don't wait 'til later, as it probably won't come. And you will live forever, kicking yourself for not getting it.

⇒ Cleaning Your Treasures

When I see an empty box, torn open by a wild creature, I know openers have arrived in our household and the cleaning solution will be on the counter. John works hard to bring their shine back to life. Other collectors may not wish to remove the marks of time, or may not care to take the time involved in the cleaning process.

This war against rust, seeps into other areas of the kitchen. Last week, I cut my bread and placed the electric knife blades by the sink to wash off. John asked me why they were there. I told him, only to find out that he had covered them with oil, because they had some rust on them. My joints did move better than usual that day!

⇒ Displaying Your Collection

Our home would be very plain and cold, if not for the unique collection adding warmth and interest to it.

⇒ Photography Your Collection

Photographing small, shiny objects with small print is a real challenge.

⇒ Joining JFO

This is a must... I better start looking at that handbook, most recently published by the JFO Editor. Where else could you learn so much about your new, exciting collection?

⇒ Network of Collectors

This is priceless. When you become active in JFO and it's annual convention, other members soon learn your area of specialization and you learn theirs. So now the hunt is expanded to what you want and what they want. Then you compare notes and the trading begins. Soon, no one will sell an opener to you. They hold it until you have something they would die for in trade. (I won't make any comments about Norm Jay's trading techniques this time! Besides, Mark Barren now has the title previously held by Norm.)

⇒ Learning the Specifics of Openers NEXT ISSUE

I think B's are figurals and E's are wires...but by the next issue I will know all about them. John and I will exchange secrets. I will teach him about Mary Kay products, so he can take phone orders and I will look like I've learned a little after living almost 10 years with all these objects.

Herb White's Story:

In his words, as he enjoyed reminiscing:

I have often been asked, many times, how I got started collecting openers of all things, as if there was something else, but mine came from a long ways back. Many years ago as a kid, I lived on a farm up in the hills in Massachusetts and we were poorer than Jobs turkey. One day my Mother announced that we were going on a picnic come Sunday. Came the great day and everything was in readiness, she had everything packed and we piled into the old model T and off we went to a place called Mohawk Trail. Having been back there not too long ago, we were probably thirty or so miles from home, but I thought that we had traveled to the end of the earth. We stopped in a place called Mohawk Park. It had some cabins in the pines, a restaurant, some picnic tables, and most of all a Souvenir Stand with little windmills Dutch girls with water cans and heavenly objects inside. I knew I had seen everything after that.

Well, many years later I was boringly walking around at a Swap Meet in Yuma, Arizona, waiting for the wife to examine all items minutely when I saw something in a case which turned out to be an M-54 opener inscribed "Mohawk Park, Mohawk Trail, Mass.". I had to have it for a buck and a half and went to find the wife to show her my great find and tell her the story and her answer was, "Why don't you start collecting openers, it would make a nice hobby?". So here I am, several years later and several hundred openers fatter and she is still egging me on, but I sure have not ever regretted her advice and have really enjoyed the hunt and meeting others with the same interest.

19th Just For Openers Convention Buffalo (Amherst) NY April 23-27, 1997

The workplace was frantic as I tried to get everything squared away before leaving for the JFO convention. I was working until 11 AM as Pat was nice enough to take the whole day off and pack. We (Pat, myself and Corkie) finally left Durham at 1:45. We had to make Williamsport, PA and it was 10:30 that night before we arrived at our destination. My new 97 Ford F-150 extended cab was packed full. Corkie the Yorkie was along on this trip and she was a little uneasy traveling in an unfamiliar environment. I didn't sleep too well with the anticipation of all of those openers and corkscrews just waiting in Buffalo 4 hours away.

We left Williamsport the next morning at 8:30 and arrived at the Lord Amherst, the convention hotel, at 12:30. Of course several JFO members had already checked in including the convention host for 1997, Mark Barren. He had a large and extremely nice display of New York openers and corkscrews which are his specialty. Mark has close to 500 different openers and corkscrews from New York state. Of course before unloading the truck I had to see the M-3-39 Hialeah slideout shown on the front page of this issue that Mark had. I was hoping it would be mint condition but it rated a strong very good. You can't be too picky when it is the only known slideout from Hialeah and in fact the only known opener from the Hialeah Brewing Co. These being the facts it was going to require a premium trade on my part. Unloading required 10 trips from the truck to the room. We had a very spacious corner room on the second floor. Unlike most previous conventions the Lord Amherst Hotel was small and suited to our group size very well. The hotel had only 2 floors and was basically u-shaped.

Herb Danziger was already prowling the halls for corkscrews (Camille was in Buffalo visiting her mother, she picked Herb up after the Saturday show). Most of my trading corkscrews were of the can opener variety and so I ended up trading most of them to Joe Young. As usual Joe and Jackie Young had a nice selection of openers plus some very interesting beer go-withs. One item I really wanted was a small lady's mirror with beer advertising (a bottle was shown on the back of the mirror). After Joe came up with a pile from my traders I laid aside a nice selection of openers and the mirror. We reached an agreement quickly and my first convention deal was completed. Among the openers I got were a B-13-46 Buckeye, B-36-UL Stone Malt, B-38-UL Blue Ribbon Malt, N-22-UL Gold Seal, F-2 Pepsi-Cola, H-10 Canada Bud and several miscellaneous openers along with the mirror.

Later on I set up my room with the remaining openers from the Don Bull type collection. Don had graciously allowed me to bring them to Buffalo to trade for corkscrews and to sell them if trade efforts failed. Gary Deachman arrived and he ended up buying five of Don's openers. Gary is definitely the life of the party for any convention and he brought a female companion, Shirley. As usual the afternoon had flown by and it was time for supper. I was trying to locate Don Sherman when I went into Don Virostek's room. He had brought a lot of openers for sale and I hurriedly spotted an E-6 Penn-Indiana and a Canadian C-type advertising Cincinnati Cream. I had Don's girlfriend Carol lay them aside as Don was not in the room. She laid them on a side table and I hurried off to supper. This would be the first of several meals at the "Shannon Brewpub" which was attached by a carport to the hotel. We had 15 people in our group. As with other meals that followed the food was good but the service was slow. Most of the meals took at least an hour and a half and after 30 minutes I would be chomping at the bit to get back to the action.

Gary and Shirley showed up at supper and Gary immediately starts giving me a hard time about picking out C-type Cincinnati Cream opener in Don Virostek's room. This one has a bottle outlined on it and of course that is Gary's specialty, bottled-shaped openers. After supper Gary and I got down to some serious trading. He had a M-77 Pfeiffer hammer that I had traded him at the 1989 convention (this was definitely in my more ignorant days of collecting). I had traded Gary the M-77 and a B-40 Sebewaing for a B-3 Edelweiss and a B-46 Rainier. Since then I have had 5 B-3s and 3 B-46s. I never saw another M-77 available and just last year got the B-40 again from Don Bull's type collection. Fortunately for me I had a N-49 Pfaff's watch fob that Gary wanted. We traded straight up. Gary was wearing a Chero-Cola fob opener and didn't need it anymore since he now had the N-49. I had the C-1 Bismarck shown in the last issue and traded him one for one. I also bought several soda openers that Gary had out.

Later on I ran into Larry Moter and he proceeds to tell me that he saw the E-6 Penn-Indiana in Don Virostek's room and had offered him $20 for it. The price I would have to pay for the E-6 just went up. The lesson to be learned is if you have to lay aside some openers to buy from someone make sure and have them hidden away. So naturally when Don Virostek showed up in his room, I had to pay $20 for the E-6. I also spent $75 more from Don for some more openers. Things were really starting off fast. Norm and Judy Jay had finally settled in and Norm had brought a lot of good traders. The best being for me a B-34-2 Pechstein and Nagel. Our trade would wait but it was close to 10:00 now and it was time for Mark Barren and me to get down to some serious trading. I had brought a nice array of New York State key openers (B-style) which are Mark's favorites. Mark had the M-3 Hialeah, a G-10 Maltosia and a H-10-UL Lackawanna Beer that I wanted. After some initial negotiation with Larry Moter as a referee, we worked out pretty quick trades for the G-10 and H-10. The M-3 was another story. Mark wanted the universe and I felt I was giving at least the solar system. It was just after midnight now and we agreed to put the M-3 trade on hold. I turned in shortly after and had the first of two restless nights because of the Hialeah slide-out.

It was Corkie the Yorkie's first big trip and with so many visitors in the room it took a couple of days for her to settle down. Corkie has to go out at the crack of dawn and always make one last trip out at midnight with several trips during the day for bathroom chores. She is a real sweetie and was great for keeping an eye on all of the openers in my room. Each morning we had a free breakfast at the brewpub. Thursday morning I opened up at 9:00 and by noon had sold quite a few of Don Bull's openers. Hardly anyone had corkscrews for trade except for Norm Jay. I did complete a trade with Norm for an L-2 with an intact stanhope (a whiskey factory scene) with the L-2 going to Don's collection. Thursday saw more members arriving. Gary and I did some more trading and I bought a few more soda openers from him. After lunch Mickey and Ellie Dutcher arrived. They had attended the 1994 Reading convention and at that time had several hundred openers for sale from a collection they had purchased. They brought about a 100 to sell this time. Ellie collects cast iron figural bottle openers and I had a F-28 Hollow Mold Cowboy and a F-62 Timberjack Brass Donkey that she wanted. After some discussion about a folding celluloid lady corkscrew from Germany, we proceeded to their room. I picked out several soda openers and one beer wire and we completed a deal for the 2 Fs (they had to throw in a good deal of money). My timing proved impeccable again when Larry Moter walked in the room. He looks at the pile I had picked out and says that beer wire sure is rare. I thanked Larry for his help and Ellie just smiled as I left to go back to my room and get her 2 figurals. Larry had found an extra E-3-56 Abner-Drury which I wanted, so I traded him the beer wire (E-14-592 Jamestown) for the E-3.

The Dutchers showed the lady corkscrew to the veteran corkscrew collectors in attendance. Most agreed it was a very good piece but it was being saved for the Friday auction anyway. Don Whelan and I completed a small trade that afternoon and I also completed one with Don Sherman. Don Sherman had once again made the longest trip flying all the way in from Los Angeles. I also got to finally meet Sandra Emme. Sandra is a longtime collector of cast iron figural openers and small miscellaneous items in general including any openers and corkscrews that hit her fancy. Even though we had a nice room on the second floor, we were a long ways from the hospitality room and not a lot of traffic was passing our way. Gary Deachman who was also on the second floor had most of the traffic cornered, certainly all of the noise. Corkie was slowly adjusting and at 13 months she can really move. She picked this time to shoot out of the room and go running down the hall. I was yelling for her to stop and she finally did when she reached Gary's room. She ran straight into his room and ran for him. I was afraid she had lost her mind, but it had to be the angel that Gary brought with him named Shirley that attracted Corkie to the room. Pat was sweet enough to tend to Corkie most of the time except this afternoon she had gone with several of the ladies shopping.

Supper was another 2 hour affair but the food was good. Afterwards Mark and I were haggling over the M-3 Hialeah. He was starting to lower his expectations and we were now one opener apart from completing the deal. The trouble was I did not want to give up that one opener. I thought my standing offer was fair, so we had to sleep on it again until Friday. Thursday evening and most of Friday morning was spent reminiscing. Most of the JFO members and spouses went on a tour of Niagara Falls from 9-2 Friday. Mark served as a tour guide. I spent most of the time talking with Gary Deachman about Bill McKenzie, a long time member who had just passed away.

Gary and Bill had been friends for 20 years and had lived near each other in Colorado when they met. Gary got started in openers in the 70's because he lived across the road from a flea market. Like everyone else he thought they were something neat to collect. With a wife and family to take care of he didn't have a lot of extra money in those days but he would take 2 to 3 dollars each weekend and go looking for openers (this was back in the good old days when most were pretty cheap). After six months he was really starting to accumulate a lot of openers and a lot of duplicates. Gary thought it would be a good time to set up himself at the flea market and try to sell his duplicates. Dealers selling to him had told them they had been saving them for someone else and Gary was getting there first now. Anyway he set up one weekend and after sometime with just curiosity seekers, one guy comes up and dives in on what he has laid out. The guy checks his whole stock out and starts telling Gary how the dealers were talking about a local guy beating him to all of the good openers. Of course this guy is Bill McKenzie.

Gary said Bill ran home and got all of his traders and came back so they could deal. From that day on Bill and he were close friends. Bill told him that NABA was having a beer show in nearby Ft. Collins the next month. Gary went with Bill to the show and from then on they were inseparable at shows until Gary moved back east in 1988. He also told the story about finding an O-11 Narragansett. Gary got it at a local flea market still in its original box. He showed it to Bill one day when Bill was visiting. Bill checked it out real good and left, saying I will see you later. Gary said he thought he meant in a week or two at a show that was coming up. So Gary is out mowing the yard a couple of hours later when his wife yells that Bill is back. Gary looks up and Bill is standing in the driveway with a box. He walks up to Bill and Bill wants to know if Gary will trade the O-11 right now. Gary said you know who got the best of this deal.

About 2:00 everyone returns from the Niagara Falls trip. The auction was next on tap and I wanted to put some good openers in. Each member is limited to 3 items. I decide to put in an A-34-3 Gilt Top, a B-10-1 Congress and a P-90-3 Hupfels. The auction was scheduled to start at 5:00 and once again Verne and LaVerne Vollrath would be running it. The auction room was in the basement of the Shannon Brewpub and consignments could be brought over starting at 3:00. Gary and I helped Verne and the auction started nicely with a P-42-1 Bartholomay up for grabs. The bidding stopped at $40 and when Verne said "seller beware", Todd Milano's 5 year old son, Hale, said "Sold". This brought the house down. Each item is bid on when the bidding stops, Verne announces "Seller Beware". This gives the person selling the opener or corkscrew the right to pass on the selling price if they believe it had not brought enough money.

This year's auction had a lot of good items and was one of the best auctions ever for content. The Dutchers did place the German Lady corkscrew in the auction. It was bid up to $340, but they passed on selling it at that price. The next highest bid for an item was the B-10-1 Congress. Gary and Don Whelan got in a bidding war. It started at $30 and proceeded in $5 increments until Gary won out at $180. This was more than double the book price and several New York collectors in attendance were in shock. I was real happy seller at that price and I spent Friday evening thanking Don Whelan for being "bid happy". Gary got back at me by opening the bidding on a P-8-53 Houston corkscrew at $50. I had to bid $55 to get it and no one else seemed interested. Of course that is what friends are for to make sure you pay a fair price. Other items of interest were a P-96 Gutsch knife that was bid up $100 and passed on by the seller as he wanted $150 for it. The A-34-3 Gilt Top went for $80 and a mint F-23 Golden Brew brought $75.

The auction concluded at 6:30. Jim Pedersen donated 4 Canadian openers and a "growler" that were auctioned off. Proceeds of $20 are to be used for next year's convention. Thanks very much Jim for the donation. As always special thanks to Verne and LaVerne for doing a super job with the auction. After returning from the auction I did a little trading with Todd Milano on some "I-7s" I had. Todd and Bob Stahly also did some trading on some "I-7s" that Bob had. I had picked out 3 openers off of Todd's trade list and wouldn't you know when Bob looked at it he wanted 2 of the 3 I had picked out (there were 200 openers on the list). It ended up that Bob needed only one of the 2 so Todd got 2 "I-7s" from Bob and 3 "I-7s" from me.

Pat and I went with Joe and Jackie Young and Don Sherman to a local restaurant for supper. Afterwards I figured it time for Mark and me to complete the M-3 Hialeah trade. I was determined to trade my way or no way. My way was the offer I made Wednesday. Mark finally relented since he was happy with the other 2 trades we had made. I was the proud owner of the M-3 Hialeah and Mark filled several holes in his New York collection. When the big deal was completed, I checked out rooms of new arrivals including Tom Atkinson, Paul Luchsinger and Rich Alonzo. Tom and Paul had nice selections of corkscrews for sale. Rich specializes in Syracuse, NY openers and had a lot of good New York openers for sale. By 10:00 it was time for Norm Jay and me to complete our little "trade". We had to finalize the L-2 trade from the day before and then work on a trade for a cigar cutter and a couple of miscellaneous openers Norm had. We went back and forth awhile as I did not have a lot that Norm was really interested in. We finally decided to wait until Saturday evening to complete this deal.

It was 11:00 now and Mark needed help setting up tables for the public show the next morning. Larry Moter and I went with Mark to the basement of Shannon's Brewpub and spent about 45 minutes setting up the room. It was 12:30 when I turned in (I had to take Corkie out one last time). I was up and packing openers to take to the show at 6:00 the next morning. We had breakfast with Ben and Cornelia and afterwards I started setting up. Pat watched the table and I made 6 trips hauling everything from the room. Mark had 34 tables available and almost all were taken. The auction room from the day before was used as the display room. We had 14 large displays and 7 displays for the "Best In Show Award". Members were setting up at 8:00 and the public starting arriving at 10:00. A good group of walk-ins passed through and several local JFO members came including Matt Caton, Bill Arber, Ed Schaefer, George Mayer, Larry Sherk and Henry Bodnar. By 10:30 it was time to start voting on the displays. Art Santen spent 30 minutes setting up his display with help from John Goff. Art displayed a Bud Bowl with a large football field layout and even included a blimp opener. All of openers displayed were football related (which means you got to see a lot of plastic).

His efforts brought him 1st place in the display contest. Bob McNary had a fine display of Iroquois beer openers and captured 2nd place. Larry Biehl won 3rd place with his outstanding "F" type display in a folding case. Larry was also an easy winner in the "Best In Show Award" for previously unknown knife. Many thanks go to the spouses for helping with the raffle, especially to Marge Stahly for being the main support as usual. Tickets were 50 cents each and the money goes towards paying convention costs. Vic Keown won an American Breweries II and John Goff won a 1997 Handbook. Other giveaways included t-shirts, bottle of wine and I won for Pat a very nice JFO quilt patch piece made and donated by Bonnie Teggatz. Mark also had a local cancer society contest. For $1.00 you got to guess the number "I" openers in a 50 gallon bucket. Half of the proceeds went to the local cancer society. Ellie Dutcher won the other half of the proceeds with a guess of 657. The bucket actually contained 667.

Don Whelan and the club members really surprised me with a service plaque award. Don had written a couple of months before wanting to buy a 1990 JFO convention opener. I still have a few left and he said he needed it to complete his convention opener display that he would be taking to Buffalo. Much to my surprise he attached it to a really nice award plaque for service to Just For Openers. Thank you very much Don and to all members for their support. A moment of silence was observed in honor of Bill McKenzie. His presence was sorely missed and in his honor the "Best In Show Award" will be known in the future as the "Bill McKenzie Best In Show Award".

By 12:00 several members were preparing to leave for home and by 1:30 the show concluded. After carrying all of my openers back to the room Pat, Corkie and I went to see Niagara Falls. We went to the Canadian side as Pat wanted to stand on Canadian soil (she is Canadian) and Corkie added her blessing by doing the small business on Canadian soil. We were back in time for the JFO group dinner at 5:30. We had 40 attendees counting spouses. I left the dinner at 7:30 to take care of Corkie and after a short visit to the hospitality room to say good-byes retired to my room. Pat was busy giving Jami Hoffman a Mary Kay facial. They were finished by 9:15 and I passed out in bed at 9:30 from exhaustion. We were up and loaded by 7:00. One last meal at the Shannon Brewpub and a few more good-byes and we were ready to leave. Many of the members had stayed over to go to a local flea market that morning and several good openers were reportedly found. We were on the road by 8:30 and it was 9:00 that night before we arrived back in Durham.

The trip home was uneventful except for passing Ben and Cornelia Hoffman just below Williamsport, PA. I even stayed up a couple of extra hours when I got home organizing openers. I picked up 95 new openers for the collection with most those being soda. Other members reporting to me their numbers included host Mark Barren with 40, Larry Moter with 55 and Verne Vollrath with 35. Some really nice figures considering how advanced these collectors are. Remember folks the JFO convention is the best place to get openers and corkscrews in this day and time. While I was looking through the new openers I was already thinking next year about San Francisco.

Thank You Mark Barren for Hosting a Great 19th JFO Convention

A couple of convention short stories were sent in by Herb Danziger.

Cornelia Hoffman was undaunted after being outbid on a beer glass during Friday's auction. She and Fran Biehl concluded what has to be considered one of the most successful transactions at Saturday's show. Fran had on display in her booth an antique fox stole which immediately caught Cornelia's eye. In a few minutes the deal was completed. Propriety kept me from asking the final price, but both negotiators appeared satisfied: Cornelia because she acquired the stole at what she felt was a reasonable cost and Fran because she actually got rid of the damn thing.

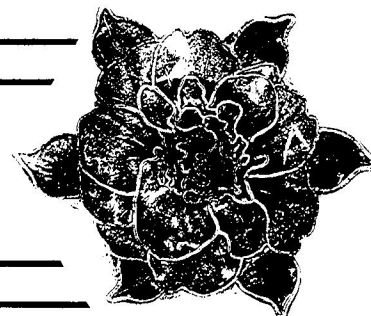

Cornelia, still giddy from her fantastic success, proceeded to purchase two fur-clad openers from Dick Britton for a total of $1. One was an "I" opener with a mink coat, the other a fur tail of non-descript origin. Cornelia said "I will buy fur anytime". Anytime? Any kind!

Marge Stahly was the hit of the show at dinner in the pub on Friday night. Her interpretation of regional American accents was remarkable. Her range and length of vocalizations of vowels and diphthongs such as aaaaaa, awwwww, and ooooooh were humorously colored by her mid-western twang. Her repertoire did not include eastern european versions which was puzzling since she precluded her demonstrations with several Black Russians.....or maybe just one really big one.

Marge should definitely sign on for the Comedy Club circuit. Bookings may be made through this publication.

Lost Woman's Pin at the Buffalo Convention

The pin shown to the right was found on the floor at the Saturday show in Buffalo. If the pin belongs to you please contact me and I will return it.

Pinnacle Peak Patio in Scottsdale, AZ

This past winter Harold and Boots Queen stopped in the Pinnacle Peak Patio Steakhouse in Scottsdale, AZ. Harold reports that a large opener and corkscrew collection is on display in a glass showcase, and if you are in the area it would be worth stopping in to check out the collection.

A Note From Someone Who "Wasn't" At The 1997 Convention (by Ollie Hibbeler)

On the Monday following the convention I had a welcome visitor. Harriet Waldo showed up at our home with my very own J.F.O. convention "Goody Bag"! It was filled with numerous openers and assorted memorabilia gifts. But most of all there were many "Get Well" and "Good Wish" notes from many J.F.O. members that I have had the pleasure to be acquainted with over the past 20 years. Harriet said "I hate to tell you this Ollie, but we really had a great convention!". She then told me all about the convention. Sorry I missed it, but more important things come first. My last blood test came back with a "Good As Can Be" report. I guess that means I see you all in California in 1998. Life is good and friendships are very important.

Ollie Hibbeler

P.S. Just a special mention of thanks to Herb and Camille Danziger for their very practical gift. My very own CATHETER REMOVAL TOOL! OUCH! (shown below)

Herb wrote: Ollie I saw this catheter removal tool in an antique and thought you might be able to use it.

Auction Notices

Note: Anyone bidding on items from the enclosed July issue auction will receive a special JFO auction that will start mid-August and close October 1st.

The April JFO Auction brought the 2nd highest result (for JFO auctions) yet for a single opener, $122.17 for the G-11-1 Muessel. Other items of note were an Excellent B-3-1 Doelger that brought $87.52 and a M-3-24 Gunter that brought $87.50. Thanks to all 55 bidders for making this the most successful JFO auction so far ($3,994.04 for 233 lots). Special thanks to the consignors for sending in a lot of nice items and hopefully the trend continues for this auction.

The vast majority of responses about auction procedures want to leave the auction process as is. Of the responses 15 wanted to leave things as they are and 3 would like a phone auction. Going with the majority and knowing that a phone auction would require more work I will continue to run the auction in the present format. You get one bid for each item and you bid what you are willing to pay for the opener or corkscrew. It is a simple way to do the auction and as far as I know all of the consignors have been satisfied with the results.

AUCTION NEWS

Joe Cardone's Auction. Joe Cardone has been running monthly auctions since JFO started in 1979. He usually offers between 200 openers/corkscrews each auction. The main emphasis is on beer advertising openers. There is no charge for the auction. Anyone interested or anyone wanting Joe to sell (20% commission) their collection should contact:

Just For Openers Auction Guidelines

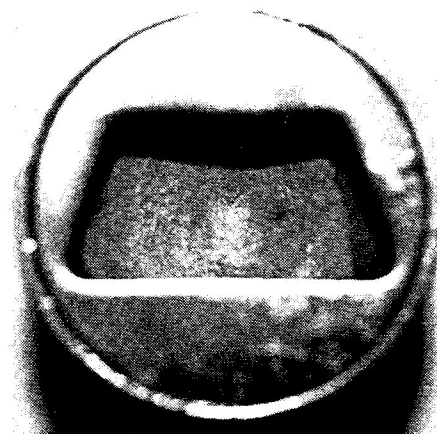

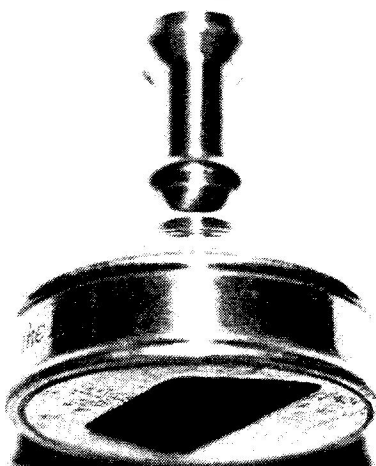

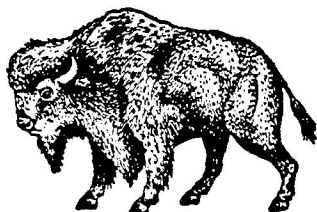

Please Note: No Commission Is Charged For Any Openers Consigned

This auction is a service to members of JFO. Consignments can consist of up to 20 openers (of course if you have more than 20 nice openers and/or corkscrews for the auction, I would consider auctioning the whole lot). I would appreciate anyone wishing to submit openers for the auction, write me first. Include a list of openers you wish to auction along with a condition for each item. If you wish to auction an item with a value of over $50.00 I would be willing to place a reasonable minimum bid on the item. Any openers submitted for the auction should have a minimum value of $5.00. I presently have many less than $5.00 openers available for the auction. Money received for your openers is sent to you within 3 to 4 weeks of the closing date.

Please Write First Before Sending Consignment Material.

New Opener Products

The Franconia Brewing Co in Pennsylvania is offering the new "R" style copper plated cast iron of a brewing kettle. Any member wishing one can order the opener from me $12.00 ($10.00 plus $2.00 postage).

Art Santen is offering a new style "Q" by Anheuser-Busch. There are 5 brands, Budweiser, Bud Ice, Bud Light, O'Doul's and Red Wolf. Price for all 5 is $10.00 plus $2.00 postage. He is also offering a Q-27-UL Budweiser and a C-49-UL Budweiser for $2.00 each. Postage is free if you order the 5 new "Q"s and $1.00 if the Q-27 or C-49 is ordered separate.

Art is proposing forming a micro mini-club to order new micro openers. Most of the time to get a price break you have order in quantity. If you are interested please contact Art at the address below.
